ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day.

Robert W. Mable of Charlotte, was a visitor here Tuesday.

The first real killing frost of the season in this section came yesterday morning.

The postoffice at Harmony, this county, has been discontinued, says the Rock Hill Record, and the mail hereafter will have to go out on routes from Catawba Junction or Lesslie.

The Times is requested to announce that the class of Miss Fannie Lewis, teacher of music in the local graded school, will give a public recital in the auditorium Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Representative S. E. Bailes, of Pleasant Valley, informs The Times that the season for killing birds in Lancaster county opens December 1 and closes February 1. To avoid possible trouble hunters of that county should bear this fact in mind.

Attention of Times readers is called this week to the full page advertisement in this issue of Patterson's Dry Goods store. This enterprising firm offers some exceptional bargains to the buying public of this city and section and none should fail to read the big ad. in this issue.

Chief of Police J. W. Lynn, of this city, several days ago received from Sheriff Hunter of Lancaster county a card offering $100 reward for the capture of John McIlwaine, the negro who fatally shot Ernest Watkins, a prominent citizen of Lancaster, on Saturday, November 6.

Ernest Watkins, overseer of the Lancaster cotton oil mill, who was shot in Lancaster Saturday, November 6, by a negro named McIlwaine, and who had since been in a Rock Hill hospital, died Friday morning at 4 o'clock. So far as is known the negro who shot Mr. Watkins has not been apprehended.

County Treasurer H. E. Neil was in Fort Mill Friday and Saturday collecting State and county taxes for 1915. Mr. Neil informed The Times that his collections while here had been better than at any point in the county he had thus far visited. A majority of the farmers, he said, seem disposed to hold their cotton for higher prices and pay taxes later.

The third annual session of the Fort Mill and Flint Hill Bible conference will be held with the two churches, beginning on next Thursday, November 25 and continuing through the following Sunday. An interesting program has been arranged for the meetings at each of the churches and it is expected that the conference this year will prove one of exceptional pleasure and profit. The program of the conference was published in a recent issue of The Times.

Minnie Harris, a negress of the "Paradise" section of the town, was committed to jail Thursday by Magistrate R. P. Harris to await trial upon the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. The Harris woman, it was said, entered the home of another negro woman, Florence White, and fired three shots at the latter, two of which took effect, one in the chest and the other in the thigh. The Harris woman was arrested shortly after the shooting by Magistrate's Constable Frank Windell.

MARRIAGES.

Jeter-Culp.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Jeter was the scene of festivities Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Kathleen, to Mr. O. T. Culp, of Fort Mill. Rev. A. McA. Pittman, the bride's pastor, spoke the words that made them husband and wife. The bride is a very pretty and social young lady, and has a wide circle of friends. The groom is a young young merchant of Fort Mill, where Miss Jeter (now Mrs. Culp) taught for two years, beginning very young. Immediately after the wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Culp boarded the "Carolina Special" for a honeymoon trip through Knoxville, Tenn., Birmingham, Ala., to Huntsville, Ala., the objective point. A large number of relatives and friends were present, and the presents contributed were many and very pretty. * * * The parlor, with its twilight effects and decorations not so profuse as to be hid in elaborations, was extremely beautiful. The style of entering the parlor, the bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and the music kept many on the tip-toe of expectancy, until the groom, with his best man, and the bride on her father's arm, met at the altar, and Rev. Mr. Pittman, in an impressive ceremony, joined them as man and wife for life. A most sumptuous dinner was served, and with all, the guests count this an eventful day; only all regret that Mrs. Culp's home will not be in our midst. — Santuc correspondent of Union Times.

Brunson-Fulp.

At 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, November 9, at her home in Orangeburg Miss Ermine Brunson was married to Richard A. Fulp, a popular young business man of Fort Mill, the Rev. H. E. Beatty of the Orangeburg Lutheran church officiating. The ring ceremony was used. The ceremony was performed in the parlor, which was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums. The bride wore a stylish coat suit of African brown cloth, hat to match, and bronze boots and carried chrysanthemums.

The bride is one of Orangeburg's prettiest young women, being of a distinct blonde type.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulp left on the Atlantic Coast Line for Washington and points in Virginia, and upon their return will make their home in Fort Mill, where Mr. Fulp is a popular young merchant. Mr. Fulp was accompanied to Orangeburg by his mother, Mrs. A. O. Jones, and Frank Lewis, of Fort Mill. — Orangeburg correspondence of The State.

Plyler-Gordon.

Elmer Gordon and Miss Vernie Plyler, daughter of Geo. W. Plyler of the Fort Mill Mfg. company's No. 1 village, were married in this city Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by Magistrate R. P. Harris. Mr. Gordon is the son of L. M. Gordon, and he and his bride have the esteem of a wide circle of friends.

Patterson-Patterson.

An event of much interest to a wide circle of friends of the contracting parties was the marriage Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock of Miss Annie Irene Patterson, of Mt. Holly, N. C., and Mr. J. L. Patterson, of Fort Mill. The marriage took place at the Mt. Holly Methodist church, the bride's pastor officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Patterson came to Fort Mill and were given a reception at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Patterson, on East Booth street. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson departed Monday for Great Falls, Chester county, where the former holds a responsible position with the Southern Power company.

Mrs. Patterson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson, of Mt. Holly, and is an accomplished and popular young woman. Mr. Patterson is a brother of Mayor B. E. Patterson, of Fort Mill, who was among the attendants at the marriage.

Loans on Cotton at 6 per cent

Last year the First National Bank loaned money to EVERY farmer who offered warehouse receipts for cotton as security, and by means of these loans hundreds of bales of cotton were stored and sold later at higher prices which put thousands of dollars in the pockets of our farmer customers.

We do not advise the farmers to store their cotton this year nor do we advise them to sell at the present prices. This is a matter which should be decided by each individual farmer according to his needs and circumstances.

We are prepared however to make loans, secured by warehouse receipts for cotton, to those farmers who may wish to hold their cotton at Six Per Cent Interest.
